Nine members of the Boise ATV Trail Riders rode in the Jordan Craters area. They went into the Owyhee Canyon down a trail that has not been used for five years. As a group, they had to throw rocks into the wash-outs just to get down a hill. They ate lunch at one of the Old Jasper Mine cabins, drove down to the Owyhee River and back out on the Birch Creek road to the trucks. It was a 23 miles trip and took in 5 hours.
